

CDR Patrick Dill
Commanding Officer, Air Station New Orleans, USCG

Commander Patrick Dill enlisted in the Coast Guard in 1995, earned his Commission in 2000, and was designated a Coast Guard Aviator after completing Naval Flight Training in 2003. He currently serves as the Commanding Officer at Coast Guard Air Station New Orleans, LA. His previous tours include assignment as the Executive Officer Air Station New Orleans, a budget analyst with Deputy Commandant for Operations in the Office of Budget Development (CG-DCO-82), Maritime Domain Branch in the Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Policy), Operations Officer at Air Station Borinquen, Operations and Plans Officer White House Military Office, the Flight Safety Officer at Air Station Los Angeles, a duty standing pilot at Air Station New Orleans, MLC Pacific (t) Division, Naval Engineering Support Unit Seattle, USCGC STORIS, and Station Depot Bay.

Commander Dill grew up in Southern California. He earned his degrees while on Active Duty, receiving a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration and earning his Master's Degree in Quality Systems Management from the National Graduate School of Quality Management with a Six Sigma certification.

His personal awards include the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Coast Guard Meritorious Service Medal, Air Medal, five Coast Guard Commendation Medals, three Coast Guard Achievement Medals, three Commandant's Letter of Commendations, Good Conduct Medal, and the Coast Guard Enlisted Person of the Year. His operational recognition includes the back-to-back Naval Helicopter Association Region Eight SAR Aircrew of the year awards and the CAPT Marion "Gus" Shrode Aviation Safety Award. Commander Dill lives with his rambunctious 8-year old son, Owen.