

BMCS Bryan Mastrangelo
Reserve Command Senior Chief, CG SECTOR Southeastern New England
U.S. Coast Guard

Senior Chief Bryan S. Mastrangelo is currently assigned as the Reserve Command Senior Chief (CSC) of CG Sector Southeastern New England. After attending basic training at Cape May, NJ in 1998, his first duty station was to USCG Station Eatons Neck in Northport, NY. From there he was assigned to USCG Station Jones Beach in Freeport, NY where he took the duties of Weapons Petty Officer and First Lieutenant. During his second enlistment, Senior Chief Mastrangelo obtained many Law Enforcement qualifications and small boat coxswain certifications, including Heavy Weather Coxswain on the Coast Guard's 47' Motor Lifeboat and a USCG Captains License, Master 100 Gross Tons. During his free time,

Senior Chief Mastrangelo volunteered with the Malverne Volunteer Ambulance Corps as a Certified ALS Critical Care Emergency Medical Technician and was awarded the 2006 Volunteer of the Year. He now Volunteers with Sayville Community Ambulance Corps. Upon his initial Active Duty discharge, Senior Chief Mastrangelo was hired as a Detective with the Waterfront Commission Police Department, an agency assigned with a mission to investigate, deter, combat and remedy criminal activity and influence in the port of New York and New Jersey. As a graduate of the FBI Small Arms Instructors School, he was one of the departments Small Arms Instructors and maintained the small arms training program. From 2006 to 2007 Senior Chief Mastrangelo served as the Reserve Program Coordinator for USCG Station Jones Beach and was awarded the 1st CG District's, 2006 Reserve Enlisted Person of the year. In October 2007, Senior Chief Mastrangelo was recalled to Active Duty under Title 10-USC to provide Law Enforcement Support for Navy transports and Military Out loads until May 2010. While serving Active Duty in San Diego, Senior Chief Mastrangelo attended Miramar College's Aviation Program and obtained his FAA Fixed Wing Pilots License. Senior Chief Mastrangelo graduated from the Coast Guard's Chief Petty Officer Academy Reserve class # 25 in August 2009 and the Academy's SLEC in 2013. In November of 2010 Chief Mastrangelo was appointed a position as a Police Officer with the Suffolk County Police Department, NY where he is assigned to the Highway Patrol Bureau. He is also a member of the Departments Tactical Medic (ALS) Team. Senior Chief is currently Vice President of the Long Island Chief's Association, Sergeant At Arms of the Suffolk Police Veterans Association and also serves on the Board of Trustees for the LT Michael P. Murphy Navy SEAL Museum/Sea Cadet training facility

Senior Chief Mastrangelo's personal awards include the Expert Pistol Award and Expert Rifle Award, National Defense Medal, (02) USCG Meritorious Team Award, (04) Good Conduct Award, USCG Meritorious Unit Award, (03) Commandant's Letter of Commendation , (02) Unit Commendation Award, USCG Special Operations Service Ribbon, Global War on Terrorism service medal, (02) Coast Guard Achievement Medal, Reserve Mobilization Medal & the Outstanding Volunteer Service medal.

Senior Chief Mastrangelo's educational accomplishments include a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, "Magna Cum Laude" from Touro University International.